KIN-PO TREATMENT CURES ALCOHOLISM

Drug Habits Also Eradicated at Institute Which Claims to Have Quick and Sure Method.

The Kin-Po Institute, at Seventeenth and L streets, is a unique organization, performing a much-needed use. It undertakes to eradicate the habit of alcoholism or drug addiction, and to do it harmlessly, painlessly, and in a very brief space of time.

The Kin-Po treatment is remarkable in that it requires but twenty-four hours in cases of alcoholic poisoning and but a few days in cases of drug addiction to demonstrate its powers.

The system of treatment was originated twenty-four years ago, and the present manager of the Kin-Po Institute has seen thousands of people regain their health and shake off the habits permanently. It is the aim of the institution to effect permanent eradication of the craving for alcohol or habit-forming drugs rather than to merely give temporary relief. It is not a sobering-up institution intended for "the good fellow" with a headache, but it aims to entirely destroy the appetite for either drink or drugs.

The Kin-Po treatment, unlike other systems of treatment, has never been called a cure, although it has effected enough permanent cures to earn for itself that title. It is claimed by the management of the institution that the Kin-Po treatment affects the entire glandular system and eliminates all of the accumulated poisons which are responsible for the abnormal craving in the habitue. In other words, it puts the patient back into a normal, healthy physical condition, where he is in a position to abstain from the stimulating effects of the drugs or alcohol without causing himself any physical discomfort. The patient no longer has the intense craving that demands satisfaction.

Since 1914 over 2,500 persons, in five cities, have been treated free of charge. The cost of these treatments was over $5,000. Free treatment was given to demonstrate the effects of the remedy. The system was demonstrated recently at the National Hotel, where many Washingtonians took advantage of it. The sanatorium at Seventeenth and L streets is completely equipped for the remedy, and every comfort for the patients is provided. It is open day and night, so that any one may enter at any hour, and may do so with the utmost privacy.
